Monday, July 29 | 5pm-7pm | Cash Bar SPECIALTY COCKTAILS FROM MARCO ZAPPIA

Food waste is a hot topic right now, and many of our agency partners work on the front line of this issue on a daily basis. Please join us for a conversation on reducing food waste, valuing our food and feeding more people.

April Rog, Director of Food Rescue will be joined by JoAnne Berkenkamp, Senior Advocate, Healthy People & Thriving Communities Program at NRDC and Bertrand Weber, Director, Culinary and Wellness Services for Minneapolis Public Schools. Hear about the work being done around reducing food waste and enjoy a happy hour menu that transforms recovered food into small plates.

The event will be held from 5-7pm on Monday, July 29 at The Bird Rocks, located near Loring Park in Minneapolis. The event is free and happy hour food & drink will be available for purchase. More information can be found at www.thebirdmpls.rocks.
