

FOOD RESCUE PROGRAM

DON'T THROW AWAY YOUR CHANCE TO HELP

Meet Corey Kluever the new Food Rescue Fleet Manager

How long have you worked for Second Harvest and in what capacities? I started in the Spring of 2013 as a temporary driver knowing very little about what Second Harvest Heartland was all about. Food Rescue can be an incredible amount of work, but for some reason I stuck it out. I was hired on as a full-time driver in November of 2013 and have been with Food Rescue Department ever since. I was promoted to Food Rescue Fleet Manager in September 2019.

What is your favorite thing about working for Second Harvest? It is definitely getting to know the agency partners where we deliver quality food rescue products.

How have you seen the Food Rescue program grow or change in your time at Second Harvest? The transportation department as a whole has moved from owning older trucks to leasing new model trucks. This has obviously been expensive, but the efficiency of our trucks has increased our efficiency as a Food Bank.

How do you see your role as Food Rescue Fleet Manager in our fight against hunger? It is very important to me that as the Food Rescue Fleet Manager that we are efficiently using our resources to feed as many people as possible.
